An all-state defensive tackle from Ohio has inked a national letter of intent with the University of Montana, UM football coach Jack Swarthout announced Friday.

Randy Redwine, a 6-3, 230-pounder, from Reading High School will enroll at UM this fall.

Redwine also received all-city and all-Southwest Ohio honors during his senior season at Reading, which is a suburb of Cincinnati.

"Randy has an excellent chance at starting for us as a freshman," Swarthout said. "He is big, strong and fast."

Swarthout said the chance to start as a freshman convinced Redwine to reject scholarship offers from many major colleges, including Ohio State and Miami of Ohio.

Redwine and another UM signee, quarterback Randy Christophel, led Reading to three straight undefeated regular seasons.
